

New €25m airport planned for Bihac in northwestern Bosnia

10:25 2019-05-17

CIJ Serbia

Documents attached:

Construction started on a new airport in Bihac, northwestern Bosnia. Costs are expected to hit €25m. The government will invest €1.7m this year into the project. The airport will feature a control tower, terminal, fire brigade, maintenance service, petrol station, garage, hangar and workshops. There will also be two runways. Construction of the first is set to start soon. Euro-asfalt will be in charge of the work.